How? Health Freedom, Educational Freedom, and Financial Freedom With Jon Rappoport - March 10th

To

"It is in truth not for glory, nor riches, nor honours, that we are fighting, but for freedom – for that alone, which no honest man gives up but with life itself". ~ Declaration of Arbroath, Scotland, April 6, 1320

I like to look down the road to see the risks rising so I can deal with them before they are "in my face." So, I have invited Jon Rappoport to join me this Thursday night to look ahead and to talk about how we can protect and ensure our personal freedoms.

Globally, citizens are dealing with the steady “drip, drip, drip” of centralized control and limited freedoms. During 2016, America is being entertained by candidates punching holes in the official narratives: how vaccines really does cause much autism, how common core schooling should be cancelled, and how the official story on 911 is hoey. It feels good. However, once the election is over, we are likely in for a new wave of mandates to destroy personal health, educational and financial freedom, and just so while changes from a wave of new technology accelerate.

So, we need to start thinking about how we can assert and protect our freedoms in the current environment:

- How will we avoid paying for health care insurance and educational systems that are not life-affirming nor mentally productive?
- How will we protect our children from unnecessary vaccines and student loans?
- How will we stay financially secure and able to work?

As more people “just say no,” we will see more options open to all of us. Ultimately, the revolution is in the hearts and minds of the people. And the people who can assert the rule of law are all of us.

The US and State Governments and the Establishment are flagrantly violating the US Constitution, causing millions to lose their lives, property and hope (in both the United States and the wider world). We must lift the veils of elite secrecy and must restore American values — for ourselves, our families and our wider human communities.

Whatever you are prepared to do now and in 2017, you would be well advised to prepare and to decide. There is no one better than Jon Rappoport to help us do that!

In Let's Go to the Movies, we'll take a look at the The Big Short, the story of the hedge fund operators who made a fortune on the collapse of America's housing bubble and the global economy in 2007-2008.

Highlights from Last Week - The Future of America: What's the Plan? with Dr. Joseph Farrell

As I listen to recent discussions and questions coming from our readers and subscribers, I am continuously reminded that we lack a clear picture of what is happening in America. So, I invited Dr. Joseph Farrell to join me to look at the deeper issues of what is happening in this country and what we can do about them.

What can we do to make America great again? And what can we do to restore our covenant with each other?

This conversation (three hours long). It covering our American—

- Cultural and Economic Models
- Basic Legal and Economic Issues
- Real Risks, and
- Actions To Take Next

Dr. Farrell and I discuss the history and importance of the US Constitution, why a new constitutional convention is a dreadful, dangerous idea, and the benefits of simply abiding with the current US Constitution.

A theme throughout our discussion is the extraordinary cost that has emerged from (1) the new and growing privileged class that was enabled by the 1947 National Security Act (and its secrecy), and (2) financed throughout by the national security state. Our discussion highlights the need for local financial transparency regarding the Federal Government finances, credit, and contracts.
