2016 Annual Wrap Up - News Trends & Stories Part II - January 12th

To

“i see a beautiful city and a brilliant people rising from this abyss, and, in their struggles to be truly free, in their triumphs and defeats, through long years to come, i see the evil of this time and of the previous time of which this is the natural birth, gradually making expiation for itself and wearing out.” –Charles Dickens

This Thursday we continue our roll out of the 2016 Annual Wrap Up!

We began last week with Part I of our conversation with Dr. Joseph Farrell on News Trends & Stories, covering Economy & Financial Markets, Geopolitics, and Culture. This coming week, will be Part II covering Science & Technology, The Unanswered Questions of 2017, and Inspiration. You can follow along with the selection of stories linked on the 2016 Annual Wrap Up web presentation.
In all of our Annual Wrap Ups to date, I have told you there is a good chance that the “slow burn” will continue through the next year – not so for 2017. So I encourage you to focus your attention on our discussion of News Trends & Stories, as well as our business and investment scenarios for 2017, when we cover them in our Equity Overview in the following week. Big change is underway – debt party’s over, get ready to rock and roll! I want you to think through what this means to you and yours and how to make sure you are in position to navigate successfully.

In Money & Markets this week I will answer your questions in Ask Catherine. Make sure you e-mail or post your questions.

For Let’s Go to the Movies, I am happy to announce that Vaxxed has been chosen as Solari Report 2016 Documentary of the Year. Not only has the Vaxxed team created a life-changing documentary, but the team continues to travel, giving presentations and publishing critical interviews and case studies. If you have not seen Vaxxed or plugged into the network, you will most certainly want to in 2017!

Announcing the New Year 2017 Challenge!

We wanted to let you know that two wonderful anonymous donors to the JP Farrell Virtual Piper Organ Crowdfund have offered to match all donations during January up to the completion of Phase I, funding the console system and sample sets, the basic audio system and sample sites.

If you are moved to make your first or another contribution, the good news is that between now and January 31, it will be matched $1 for $1. That means if we can raise $4,000 during January, the match will raise the Crowdfund by $8,000 and complete the first Phase!

It’s a great way to celebrate Joseph’s birthday this month!

(P.S. - We wanted to let you know that the Bach revival in the heartland continues. Chuck’s cat is listening regularly. Our videographer’s newborn son does the Goldberg variations in the shower. Best of all for Christmas, Joseph got himself the sheet music for the complete Bach Organ Works. All we need to do now is get him that organ!)

Highlights from Last Week - Best of the Solari Report: Making Your New Year Resolutions Powerful

“No one warned us. No one said you are going to lose two engines at a lower altitude than any jet in history. This was dual engine loss at 2,800 feet followed by an immediate water landing with 155 souls on board. No one has ever trained for an incident like that.” –Captain Chesley “Sully” Sullenberger

This Thursday we begin our roll out of the 2016 Annual Wrap Up!

This year’s Wrap Up brings valuable perspective onto what happened in 2016, the changes underway now and events ahead. Our theme this year is “The Global Harvest and What It Means to Investors” – because food is the heart of local and global economic and political success.

We will start this Thursday with my Introduction and Overview as well as the first part of our conversation with Dr. Joseph Farrell on News Trends & Stories. Dr. Farrell and I will be cover Economy & Financial Markets, Geopolitics and Culture. The following week we will cover Science & Technology, the Unanswered Questions of 2017 and Inspiration. You can follow and link to the selection of stories on the 2016 Annual Wrap Up web presentation.

In all of our Annual Wrap Ups to date, I have told you there is a good chance that the “slow burn” will continue through the next year. Not this year.

The heat is turned up and we are moving into a financial pressure cooker. With the financial coup accomplished and the debt growth model coming to an end, thousands of institutions will be forced into “controlled demolitions” – pension funds are cutting benefits, insurance companies are canceling policies, and companies will continue to layoff, move, close down or declare bankruptcy.

In the face of this wave of financial defaults, our opportunity is to reengineer government investment and expenditures from a negative to a positive return. Can we do it? If we don’t, we are headed into a long and difficult financial squeeze. You will want to access our business and investment scenarios for 2017 when we cover them in our Equity Overview in the third week.
