The era of procrastination, of half-measures, of soothing and baffling expedients, of delays is coming to its close. In its place we are entering a period of consequences.” ~Sir Winston S. Churchill

The Sakerjoins me this Thursday for our quarterly Solari Report on the emerging multipolar world.
The intensity of multiple events impacting global security continues to rise. This report is a longer-than-usual, in-depth discussion of the unraveling of the unipolar world and of the drumbeats of war.

Topics include:

- Events in Syria and Middle East, including the Trump’s meetings and the Saudi alliance actions against Qatar;
- The French elections;
- President Trump’s unusual behavior at the G-7 meeting and the Vatican;
- Response to the cancellation of the Paris Accord;
- Developments in North Korea;
- Duterte and the Philippines;
- The politics of recent terrorist attacks throughout the world;
- The evolution of US foreign policy and related military deployment.

I asked the question in the 1st Quarter Wrap Up, “Can a new US administration maintain a prosperous economy without more debt, crime and war?” Events since that time indicate that the entire world is struggling with this question as so many nations seek security and private interests seek profit in a manner that diminishes global security. For some, insecurity is great for power and profit as the global economy slows and productivity stalls.

It is always a pleasure to have a professional military and intelligence analyst like the Saker join me on the Solari Report. This report is especially insightful.
I will cover current geopolitical and market events in Money & Markets. Keep the questions coming for Ask Catherine by e-mail or post in the subscriber comment section on the website.

In Let's Go to the Movies, I will discuss The Circle which was just recommended by our cultural scout in our new “Food for Your Soul” column.

A new President and his administration now grapple with how the United States, its economy and its role in the world will evolve from the Bretton Woods system created at the end of WWII and our uni-polar vision of the world. Will the United States successfully adapt to a more globalized, multi-polar world order? This critical discussion, begun in a rancorous campaign, is shrouded by partisan politics and a media “shriek-o-meter” that is distracting at best and dishonest at worst. At the heart of this problem lie the deep contradictions within the US economy that result from an economic addiction to debt, crime, and war.

Crowdfund Update!

On May 13 2017, Dr. Joseph P. Farrell addressed a gathering of Solari Report subscribers at Rye in Louisville, Kentucky.

Subject: On Culture, Politics, and Organ Music:

It is neither my habit nor my custom to read a paper to gatherings such as this; I prefer under such circumstances to extemporize from a few brief prompts, as I much prefer living spontaneity to prepared texts. But in this case I must depart from my habit and custom due to the importance not only of this occasion, but much more importantly, due to the importance of the time through which we are moving, and to the profound dangers posed to our western civilization and culture. This, I hope, will be received in the spirit in which it is intended, for each of you and many more, in donating to this virtual pipe organ crowdfund project, have made a dream come true for me.

Highlights from Last Week - Solari Food Series - An Urban Homestead with Harry Blazer and Anais Dervaes

This week on the Solari Report, Harry Blazer is speaking with Anais Dervaes of Urban Homestead as the Dervaes family announces the launch of its new podcast series on June 13th. We have featured the work of the Dervaes family before with its documentary short Homegrown Revolution:

One thing you heard in our latest Solari Report on EMF radiation is to get your feet on some dirt, your face in the sun, and your mind and body closer to nature. Here is an opportunity to do so – and to address the challenge of falling food quality and rising food prices. The Urban Homestead podcasts and workshops are designed to inspire and help you get started.

For those of us who don’t have the time or knack for gardening, the Urban Homestead story and resources are an inspiration for rebuilding our local food providers with our purchases – to shop at our local farmers markets or direct from local farms and CSAs, and to support restaurants and grocery stores that do. We can encourage our local hospitals and governments to do the same with institutional and school purchases. We can encourage our local bank or credit union to be supportive of rebuilding local food sources.
