through Codex Alimentarius – a set of international standards created and maintained by the Codex Alimentarius Commission. The United Nations established the Commission in 1961. Commission members represent 186 sovereign nations and the European Union. The World Trade Organization (WTO) uses Codex standards to resolve disputes concerning food safety and consumer protection.

Scott joins me on the Solari Report this week to update us on (i) efforts to compromise and restrict supplements through the Codex Alimentarius and (ii) citizen efforts in Italy to overturn vaccine mandates.

The global push to restrict your health freedoms is well organized and financed. It can not, however, overcome people who are armed with the knowledge to stay healthy and to defend their health freedoms. NHF and their wonderful magazine Health Freedom News are great resources to help you do so.

No Money & Markets this week – this being the last two weeks of August. Post your questions for Ask Catherine in subscriber input and I will respond on the website. If you e-mail your question, I will address in the first Money & Markets in early September.

Please do listen to last week’s Money & Markets – my discussion of the “Charlottesville psyops” offers important insight.

In Let’s Go to the Movies, I recommended VaxXed Stories: The McDowell Triplets in Michigan. This interview was conducted by a producer of VaxXed, Polly Tommey, who is one of the heroes of our day. This interview speaks volumes about the importance of your personal diligence therapies that can affect your time, health, and resources permanently. It also speaks volumes about the importance of making sure that people like Polly Tommey and Scott Tips have our backing to continue protecting our health freedoms.

In Let’s Go to the Movies, I recommend VaxXed Stories: The McDowell Triplets in Michigan. This interview was conducted by a producer of VaxXed, Polly Tommey, who is one of the great heros of our day. This interview speaks volumes about the importance of your own personal due diligence vis-a-vis therapies that can affect your time, health and resources permanently. It also speaks volumes about the importance of making sure that people like Polly or Scott Tips have our backing to continue protecting our health freedoms.

From the transcript:

Twenty years ago, I made a decision. I had to choose between my wealth and social position and my core principles. I had to decide which was more important to me – to remain a member of the establishment or to refuse to be a party to genocide; to choose individual sovereignty or high-paid slavery. I think of that decision often these days as I watch the American people individually and collectively approach a similar decision point.
I made my choice early. Now, everyone who has not made that choice will be forced to make it. The middle of the road is disappearing. Each of us will have to choose and, hopefully, defend our individual sovereignty and the sovereignty and rights of those around us. The alternative is to watch our federal government and our military engage in an acceleration of global war and profiteering. The private companies and investors who currently exercise control over our government are using it to operate violently and above the law. Global surveillance and the ability to murder with impunity is the real source of inequality. Our risks of high-tech slavery, poverty, or death are rising as state and local governments write down pension funds and write off essential services such as functioning water and sewer systems.

DOD and HUD Missing Money: Supporting Documentation

Update from CAF: Dr. Skidmore and his team have now reviewed additional documentations for the Army, Air Force and updates for the DOD general fund, adding $2.6 trillion of undocumentable adjustments. The table below is updated to include these staggering amounts.

By Catherine Austin Fitts

Thanks to Dr. Mark Skidmore and his graduate students we are publishing a list of the supporting documentation for undocumentable adjustments identified at DOD and HUD from fiscal 1998-2015.

Dr. Skidmore is the Director of the North Central Regional Center for Rural Development at Michigan State University and Professor and Morris Chair in State and Local Gov’t Finance and Policy.

Our gratitude for his efforts to understand and document this phenomenon is “off the charts”! We will be adding additional files and information as they find them.

Highlights from Last Week - Sanctions - A Conversation with Dr. Cynthia McKinney

The “Countering America’s Adversaries Through Sanctions Act” rocketed through the US Congress at record speed in July, imposing sanctions on Iran, North Korea, and Russia. Faced with a veto override, an unhappy President Trump signed it into law on August 2, 2017.

The response was swift. EU President Jean-Claude Juncker threatened retaliation. The German Minister for Economics and Energy, Brigitte Zypries, declared the sanctions illegal and urged the EU to take counter-measures. Russian Prime Minister Dmitry Medvedev announced that the law had ended the possibility of improving U.S.–Russian relations and signaled “an all-out trade war with Russia.”

What happened to the US policy of maintaining global balance by preventing a close alliance between Germany, Russia, and China? The policy appears set in reverse now, to ensure an escalating trade war. One alleged FBI whistleblower recently said of Mrs Clinton’s desire for war with Russia, “She wants war with Russia because that is what her donations bought.”

Has the entire US Congress been bought minus the two senators and three congressman who voted against the Sanctions Act? Can the bankers and the military-industrial complex order a war with their control files and campaign contributions the way you and I order take-out pizzas? It would appear so.

To help answer that question, I invited former Georgia Congressman, Dr. Cynthia McKinney, to return to the Solari Report to discuss the Sanctions Act and the unprecedented process that it was passed into law. This Thursday we will also publish to the public Dr. McKinney’s extraordinary interview on the US Constitution in the 2nd Quarter Wrap Up as well as my discussion on how we might organize to enforce it.
