In the week following we will cover the 10 top stories in Culture and Science, Space & Technology and discuss UnAnswered Questions, Inspiration and Go Local.

Because our “in person, in depth” discussions in the 2017 3rd Quarter Wrap Up were popular, Dr. Farrell and I used the same format again for our discussion of News Trends & Stories for the 2017 Annual Wrap Up. Inasmuch as our discussion is lengthy, we will publish both full-length and chapter-length versions so you can listen selectively if you prefer. These discussions explore 2017 to find the most important developments that will inform the year ahead. This in-depth discussion has been immensely productive

In our third week I will cover equity markets and publish the first Blockbuster Chartology from Rambus for the new year, 2018.

In the final week we will address our 2017 Annual Wrap Up theme: *Does Your Pension Fund Have a Deep State Drain? Money is going missing in many directions. It's time to ask some serious questions about whether and how this is impacting our pension funds. In the United States and many countries, taxpayers are on the hook for corporate and government pension funds. Whether you have a pension fund or not, this will impact your finances and the finances of your neighbors and community too.

In Money & Markets this week I will discuss the latest in financial and geopolitical news.

In Let's Go to the Movies, I will review Wormwood, Chapters 1-6 and what its publication by Netflix says about the Washington press corp, including the Washington Post.

This week we explore our theme "Enforce the Constitution!" Throughout 2017 our discussions kept returning to the importance of the legal covenants that we share as the basis of a successful economy and society.

- American Suicide: Proposals for Constitutional Amendments & Convention with Dr. Edwin Vieira, Jr.
- Bush, Cheney & 911 with David Ray Griffin

- Gun Ownership with Harry Blazer
- The Missing Money with Dr. Mark Skidmore

This included our 2nd Quarter Wrap Up that was dedicated to the topic of enforcing the Constitution. I traveled half way around the world to spend a week with Congresswoman Cynthia McKinney exploring the importance and deep politics around enforcement.
