Annual Equity Overview for 2017 and the Rambus Chartology Annual Review. In addition, Franklin Sanders of The Moneychanger will join me to review the precious metal markets in 2017 and the outlook for 2018.

In 2017, equity markets outperformed the general economy – by a lot. The question is – how long can this last? How long can investors achieve returns that are significantly superior to returns to labor, taxpayers, and the general economy – and do so without significant increases in productivity? Clearly tax reform will help as corporate tax contributions continue to decline as a percentage of government budgets.

Gold prices also outperformed, with gold producing its first double digit returns since 2010.

A review of global equity markets and our annual scenarios for 2018 is an appropriate lead into the following week theme on pensions funds. I ask the question, “Does Your Pension Fund Have a Deep State Drain?”

I will talk about what this all has to do with the FBI investigation of the Clinton Foundation, the reported 9,000 sealed indictments around the country, Attorney General Sessions decision to return to pre-Obama marijuana enforcement, why American troops are still in Afghanistan guarding poppy fields and what that all has to do with securities outperforming the general economy on a long-term basis.

Special Solari Report - The Appropriations Clause: A History of the Constitution's (As of Yet) Underutilized Clause

“No Money shall be drawn from the Treasury, but in Consequence of Appropriations made by Law; and a regular Statement and Account of the Receipts and Expenditures of all public Money shall be published from time to time.” ~ARTICLE I, SECTION 9, CLAUSE 7, UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION

[CAF Note: The Solari Report is pleased to present the first report in a new series that we have commissioned on U.S. Constitutional and legislative provisions that relate to the enforcement of federal financial laws. The existing levels of $21 trillion of undocumented adjustments in federal accounts (and counting) have surpassed official levels of outstanding U.S. debt. This underscores the importance of the enforcement of financial laws for our mutual global future. Consequently, this series is open to the public.]

As you listen, check out our web presentation for News Trends & Stories including our complete trends list, our choices for top news videos of the year, and our description of each of the 10 top stories.

Because our “in person, in depth” discussions in the 3rd Quarter 2017 Wrap Up were popular, Dr. Farrell and I used the same format again for our discussion of News Trends & Stories for the 2017 Annual Wrap Up. Inasmuch as our discussion is lengthy, we will publish both full-length and chapter-length versions so you can listen selectively if you prefer. These discussions explore the events of 2017 to find the most important developments that will inform the year ahead. This in-depth discussion has been immensely productive for both Dr. Farrell and myself.
