Question: From MG

Are we about to witness the rise of the US dollar? I have been following Steven for awhile and his theory is starting to be proven correct. A rising US dollar, GFC 2.0, recession in 2021.

Question:

Hi Catherine,

Here is my long-winded question for the week. Please bear with me. There may be others in their 20's who are in a similar boat to me so I hope this is useful for others too.

I have many 'smart' finance/entrepreneurial friends building our digital prison with their investing and employment. It's been hard watching my money in Gold drop the past month while they are all making hundreds of thousands of dollars. Some of them even cashing out their positions at 400% gains and buying land, gold and gifts for loved ones with the money. And yet on February 5th the Spec/SPAC/Equity/Crypto party continues. I'm sitting on Aussie dollars cash, Gold and Gold Miners now. I'm investing my time heavily into my health and business. I don't have enough capital for a land purchase. I've almost completely come clean across the board and it feels good morally but It's the first time in 15 years that I haven't participated in equities and derivatives markets. I'm worried my mindset is too old fashioned thinking real assets are the only real things with value. This digital revolution may take 20+ years to fail and this could imply huge economic consequences for not participating. I'm 29, self-employed and haven't even got close to making millions yet, so low yielding investments drag my finance mind down. It would be great to invest with integrity in a mutually beneficial way. I am creating an amazing health business which will bring people together and back to nature, fostering their innate healing abilities. So while I am co-creating my purpose to give and serve, how can I put my financial mind at ease and invest in ethical ESG businesses? Do you have any other suggestions?

Sending you sunlight and love from Queensland, Australia.

Thanks and heart blessings,

Dear Catherine:

What a world!! One question: what dealer in precious metals did you suggest on a prior podcast located in North Dakota?

Thank you!!

Question: From SDA

Thank you so much for all you do.

I live in the USA.

What do you recommend people do with their retirement money at this point in time? Is it even safe to be in the stock market? Or should it all be in precious metals?

We are 7 years away from retirement.

Future of Money

Question: From JM (email)

Hi Catherine. I can't thank you enough for the wonderful gift that you are to me and so many others.

When the dollar is eventually abolished in favor of the new digital currency, how will one utilize any gold sovereigns he has obtained? I need help on understanding how one would use gold in a collapsed economy when the only recognized currency is digital? I'd like to understand how gold can be converted to spendable currency accepted by retailers and other such entities. I'm only now learning about such things, so please forgive my elementary question.

I also wonder how older people can grow their own food if they have no family and live in zero-lots, condos or apartments. I am one of those and want to do what I can to prepare but wonder how to do so with no land or family to help.

I'm also curious as to how you see the eventual private property land grab by the government will work for people living in cities in fully-owned homes (no mortgage). Will property taxes be increased to absurd amounts that would bankrupt people?

Thank you in advance for any light you can shed on these questions.

Covid-19

Question: From RB

My view: Mikovits exposed

I had this distant understanding that PCR was a fraud, and they never find the deadly virus. But did not understand in any detail. Then the Planscamdemic happened and Dr. Tom Cowan popped into my youtube feed, and I listened. In this short video, he mentioned two books for reference. 1) Virus Mania by Torsten 2) The Invisible Rainbow by Firstenberg. I bought them and read them both. I read Virus Mania once, then again to make sure I was understanding what I was reading. It was just so far out... At the time I was also listening, and reading the people like Dr. Judy Mikovits, and wondering, why no mention of Exosomes. Not a peep from any of the virus pushers. I thought a chat between Mikovits and Kaufman/Cowan would be enlightening. Now it has happened. This is an amazing conversation. Then after Dr.Kaufman's feed is cut, they go on joyfully with their delusion.

Mikovits pops into the video just at about the 21-minute mark. Is this invincible dogmatic ignorance, or is Mikovits playing a deceptive role?

Question: From SB

I think you would love reading Dr. Kary Mullis' book "Dancing Naked in the Mind Field". He covers the HIV hoax and much more. What a mind that man had!

<https://www.barnesandnoble.com/w/dancing-naked-in-the-mind-field-kary-mullis/1100271007?ean=9780679774006>

Dr. Mullis felt a great sense of responsibility and said the more he read about HIV and aids the more outspoken he became. He believed AZT was killing patients. He asked Dr. Luc Montagnier(in person) for a paper he could site on the HIV-AIDS subject and he had none. Montagnier told him to site the CDC paper which was not a scientific paper. No peer reviewed paper has been published that proves HIV causes AIDs. Amazing.

Don't forget this:

Marcia Angell MD is a well-known, respected physician, long-time editor of NEJM. So it was a bit of a shock today when Amy Romano, blogger for Lamaze International, sent me this quote:

It is simply no longer possible to believe much of the clinical research that is published, or to rely on the judgment of trusted physicians or authoritative medical guidelines. I take no pleasure in this conclusion, which I reached slowly and reluctantly over my two decades as an editor of The New England Journal of Medicine.

CAF Notes & Links:

The breakthrough for me was reading Forest Maredy, particularly The Moth in the Iron Lung, and understanding how the germ theory had been used financially to save corporations and the insurance industry billions. Then the Virus Mania history made sense. There are two problems I have in the germ theory debate. First, Rappoport is right. Chemical warfare is much easier to manage than bio warfare. I would add electromagnetic warfare. So I think the diseases we are dealing with – whatever they are – are much more controllable. They may include genetically engineered viruses. But there is plenty of good old fashioned poisoning going on – and that includes EMF radiation. The second problem is that we do not have an integrated vision of our physical bodies that includes our electromagnetic body. That is why watching Ulrike's Wave Genome is strongly recommended – all of the Future Science series is essential viewing here.

Question: From BC & A

Catherine this is a very uncomfortable situation my son is in. He joined the navy almost 2 years ago. He absolutely believes in fighting for the tenets of our republic however the current environment in the military with mandatory CV vaccines and serving under a less than coherent administration has put him on a line which he feels he can not cross. He will not get the vaccine. In his assessment, there is no logic to the push behind this (toxine). He favored the last administration because of the commitment to no new wars. He knows he accepted a contract and took an oath but is there a time in your opinion a breaking of such a contract is warranted. He understands the difficulty of this process and the possible effect on his future. Kind regards,

CAF Notes & Links:

If you look at the policy changes (see <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=MgOcMePVIU8>) the US military is in the process of changing the deal on him. So as a moral issue, I see absolutely no problem in leaving the contract. The question is administrative and legal. What are his options to leave before the vaccine is required. That is what you need to figure out. I would find a highly capable private attorney with long history in the Navy JAG who can help him figure the most intelligence and mature pathway. This is a situation where first rate legal representation can make a big deal, so this is a great investment of your money.

I will discuss the policy changes more on money and markets.

The mobile app doesn't work. Is there anyway you can make your website mobile friendlier. It is time consuming to login and enjoy the content and it's very difficult to navigate. All the graphics look nice but they take forever to appear on my cell phone Here is an independent third party report clearly showing the website is not mobile friendly. Perhaps the graphic with the microphone could also be a text link at the top of the website. It is not my brand new cell phone nor the high speed giga wifi connection. Thanks for your consideration per aspera ad astra - so to speak - I stumbled across your web site. I dived into it and found many thing interesting and conclusive. So much though, that I decided to support your work with an annual repeating amount. So: thanks for the work and effort. Being native German I am lucky to converse in English quite fluent. Many other Germans are just as lucky, I suppose. But a broad majority is not. In order for them to gain access to your information for instance they would use some AI like Google translate or so. These pieces of software are faulty and will deliver only part of the information correctly. The remainder will be some gibberish. So, people don't have easy access to that information and will likely lose interest or, worse though, attach a tag on you that does your work no justice and might even shine a light on you you would not want to appear in.

Question: From D (email)

Hello Mrs Fitts,

So, why not publicise your information in several languages ?

I find some pieces translated into other languages, German is about them every now and then, but not the entirety of you built up on your web site. However, as you said in your talks: we build our own prison. One of our strenghtes is to stop doing that. This is, from my point of view at least, a m a j o r contributor to make the cattle chute we are fearfully recognizing following the judas cattle fo away. What it takes, though, to help other see is to spread the word so that they can understand.

Coming to an end I do encourage you to address Europe with 245 M people at least in additional languages such as French, German, Italian, Spanish, Portugese... and others. I named the ones of which I believe they's make a big impact in the collective perception of the european people. Others should follow and continue to carry the wave throughout Europe.

Well, if you would think of providing content in other languages at all I would be willing to contribute to a German version of your content. If you are using word-press to manage your site, for instance, you can load polylang and get your site multilingual quickly and fairly effortless. I am saying this out of my own experience ;-).

Warpping up: you're doing a great job :-). If only what you publish could reach farther... I am willing to put time and effort into „reaching farther”.

Thanks for listening

Question: From TM (email)

Hi Catherine,

I got a little lost on the way this was going to be used to take down businesses.

If the SBA is part of the government then how is the money coming from them different from coming from the Feds....or am I forgetting the Feds are privately owned.

Please expand on data mining, why it would have to be paid back when they seem to be giving it away as gift to people and how this perhaps allows them to take over a small business.

Thanks so much for the report with John Titus. I am no longer a business owner, but just trying to see what is coming for my kids generation with all of this.

And I need even a more dumbed down marble example with a little lego man that is me. I get money from my job then put it into my local bank then take out a loan for a car....then I lose you two....the treasury notes and the balance sheets. I continue to watch Titus videos but just need the jr first grade version to jump on board!

Question: From IN

Have you heard about Dr. Paul's new show?

Against the Wind with Dr. Paul Thomas – Doctors & Science Under Fire

Dr. Paul co-authored The Vaccine Friendly Plan book that outlines what parents should consider when it comes to which vaccines to give and when. His recent paper shows the CDC vaccine schedule creates a massive aluminum overload pushing infants over the toxic level for 30 – 70% of their first 7 months of life. Infants who follow the Vaccine-Friendly Plan spend 6% of their first 7 months in the toxic zone for aluminum. With Dr. James Lyons-Weiler, Dr. Paul published the data for all children born into his practice in the landmark paper comparing unvaccinated to variably vaccinated children showing significantly improved health outcomes in the unvaccinated.

Attached is the Russian 1,6M views Video by a Michalkov, a famous Russian movie producer whose family roots go to the Russian/Soviet/Post Perestroika Elite. His views are based on Christian morale, as you see the icons on the background. This video is the most explosive material I've seen on c19 pandemic. The video is based on the research by UK based Russian blogger/attorney. She and Michalkov go right to the bottom the regime change by totalitarian elites. They contrast and compare Agenda 21/30 with 1917 Russian Revolution. I posted a request there to translate it and post the English subtitles. But, if anyone has a Russian speaking friend, it would be extremely helpful to watch it as soon as possible in order to connect the dots.

The Mike Lindell election documentary, “Absolute Proof”, was released today, but removed from several sites. Unclear why he did not hire a professional to present this message: <https://michaeljindell.com/>

CAF Notes & Links:

Question: From RB

The whole show seems so coordinated or uncoordinated, I can't tell. Why aren't Powell, Flynn, Byrne, Lindell coordinating their effort, or are they? Are we at 43D Chess yet? Who else is in that mix, I am forgetting somebody.

Between them all, they could certainly muster the resources needed to produce a clear message. They don't even appear to be communicating with each other. I can imagine a formidable effort if they were actually combining resources. Do a Vaxxed Style Road Show. People are starving for information. Think of the opposition that Polly had with Vaxxed, and she did it reaching millions of people. The effort appears to be bullshit.

Why are Byrne and Lindell running what seems like different efforts?

Byrne's story is interesting as hell but leaves you hanging on the big giant special counsel question and a few others. Maybe there will be a part 5? Who Knows? Was Trump sincere when he appointed Powell as special counsel, or just trying to weasel away? Why would Trump tolerate behavior like Bryne describes for four years. Why would Trump not follow up with Powell directly? Can't the guy pick up a phone? Wouldn't he be looking for Powell on Monday at the White House? Or at least by Friday?

Trump's kids and Guliani partying it up New Year's Eve? Very weird.

I really don't understand that world. My sense is Byrne, and Powell was maybe mounting the most sincere of all their efforts.

Flynn is in the shadows so who knows what he is doing, and now his brother is a big shot in the army. I don't know what to do with that info and can't find any place for it where it offers any meaning to better my understanding.

Lindell is making C+ documentaries and pillows.

I don't know that any of it matters. It is the same old story, a Red Button story.

On a more positive note, I am most excited about adding a few milk goats in the spring. Then I got a call this afternoon. A family is moving and needs a home for 16 chickens and ducks, just under a year old. They arrive tomorrow. Now that I think about it, did she say 16 chickens and 16 ducks, or was it 16 combined?

My little farms needs a bit of work before I can call it a real farm, little and all. But we have big plans, a nice barn built and lots of weeds for goats.

CAF Notes & Links:

There are two options. Trump made a deal to lead his supporters into the domestic terrorism trap is one. Gross incompetence on the part of Gulliani and Trump is another. Time is likely to tell.

No doubt Jim Baker is shaking his head. Bush won the 2000 election because Baker ran the election fraud management post election, not Gulliani.

Question: From RP

It must require great effort to be this incompetent (both the pre-election Dem “campaign” and the post-election Rep “investigation”), so could it be an off-off-of-f-Broadway show? If both teams are run by the same central bankers, why not have “keep what you catch” equal opportunity looting by each team in turn, ahead of a major economic shift?

Not much leadership messaging or popular consent is needed for off-book operations while systems are on technocratic auto-pilot. If a time comes to deliver bad news, there's a bad cop on standby. If a time comes for rebuilding, there's a "populist" leader-in-exile on standby, pending some miraculous electoral event. Maximum optionality. Three presidents for the price of one! Four if we include the shadow ex-President.

Even the new Time story parallels the Navarro report & Lindell documentary, further blurring reality:

<https://time.com/5936036/secret-2020-election-campaign/>

<https://navarreport.com/>

A visible example of reality conflicting with media is NYC "outdoor" dining:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FNMJf_VMK8o

– "I try to avoid trying to understand it. I just exist within it."

– "why does everybody walk around like this is normal?"

– "How is this reality?"

Question: From RP [not a question]

Final update from Miles Mathis on election (page 29), essentially a red button pitch:

<http://mileswmathis.com/trump3.pdf>

“They faked the whole election brouhaha as more misdirection, to keep your mind and eyes off the trillions they are stealing from the treasury in debt creation and other conjobs. And what have you done about it? Nothing. You were waiting for Trump to save you. I have news for you: there are a hundred million of you or more. You don’t need Trump to save you. You can save yourselves just by standing up and saying no. 50,000 restaurant owners in Italy decided to band together and reopen, defying government orders. The government has been able to do nothing about it. Do you really think the US Government can put 100 million Trump supporters/conservatives/anti-maskers/antivaxxers/others in jail, collect fines from them, take their guns, or do anything else? Of course not. It is all a bluff. It has all been a test to see how far they could bluff you, using fear as their main lever. And you have mostly fallen for it.

So it is not the government you should fear most: it is your own gullibility and weakness, and that of your neighbors. But the news is good from there, since the fear and gullibility and weakness is your own. Meaning, you have control over it. If you are tired of being afraid and gullible and weak, just stop. You have that ability and power. You don't need to reform government or the bastards behind it. Reform yourself and the problem is solved. 100 million such people could not be imposed upon by anyone.

You will tell me there is no chance of 100 million people reforming themselves like that, and suddenly becoming strong. And I tell you that most people, even the Dems and liberals, are one tocsin, one defining event, away from saying "no more". When pushed to the edge, it doesn't take a huge amount of courage to say "no more". At some point it becomes the last and only available response. I know because I came to it long ago. I didn't suddenly become a superhero, I just embraced the last available response, which was to say "No, I am not retreating any further. If you want to push anymore, you better dig a grave first, because one of us is going into it". I believe a large number of people are at that point, or right on the cusp, and the important thing is to keep them from fighting each other. The governors are trying to start a civil war, so that we divide down the middle and attack one another, which is why I keep telling you to focus. This isn't about left v. right or black v. white or men v. women. It is about the billionaires and trillionaires feasting on the rest of us like a pack of wolves. So remember that when you find yourself."

Question: From JF (email)

Catherine,

Mr. Global is the Superior General of the Jesuit Order, also known as the Father General or the Black Pope.

His purpose is to reverse the Protestant Reformation and get the Roman Catholic Church back to being the "universal" church and government, to which everyone in the world belongs. This universal religion and government is to be run by Jesus Christ when he returns. Prior to that, it will be run by Christ's representative, the Pope. The capital is to be Jerusalem. A related purpose is that poor and suppressed people are less likely to notice his crimes, and are more likely to agree to help with his activities.

I only discovered this last March, when I was trying to figure out what the pandemic shutdowns were all about.

To explain what I discovered, I first need to describe the Third Party Law of Scientology (a copy of which is enclosed). This says that, for a war or any conflict to exist between two nations, there needs to be a third party that is present and unknown and is actively producing the conflict. If you look at a war and cannot find the third party who is creating the war, then keep looking for the third party. Any war has a third party that is creating it.

Now, I had known the Third Party Law for years, but had never been very successful at looking at a war and figuring out who the third party was. This changed, in March 2020, when I happened to read about the suppression of the Jesuits (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Suppression_of_the_Society_of_Jesus). By 1782, the Jesuits had been kicked out of all countries except China, Russia, and Prussia, and the Pope had banned them. Then, there was the French Revolution and the Napoleonic Wars. By 1814, all of the rulers who kicked out the Jesuits were gone, and the new rulers welcomed the Jesuits back.

I'd never known the third party that caused the French Revolution or the Napoleonic Wars. It sure looked like the Jesuits had a motive. From that, I tentatively concluded that the Jesuits were the third party for those wars.

From this, I wondered if the pattern might be:

- 1) a ruler kicks the Jesuits out,
- 2) there is war and chaos,

- 3) the old ruler is gone, and
- 4) the new ruler welcomes the Jesuits back.

I checked out a number of cases, and found that this pattern works remarkably well. For example, Fidel Castro kicked the Jesuits out of Cuba in 1961, and Saddam Hussein kicked the Jesuits out of Iraq in 1969. Both countries were later attacked by the United States.

Jesuits have always been expert spies. An example from around 1600 was the Jesuit priest, John Gerard (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/John_Gerard (Jesuit)), who wrote a book in Latin about his years as a spy in England to be used to train other Jesuit spies. E Howard Hunt of the CIA said "We've always said in an admiring way that the Jesuits form the greatest intelligence service in the world and always have". I believe that the CIA was created primarily to do what the Jesuits needed, and to shift the blame to the CIA instead of the Jesuits.

I've enclosed a three page piece from the Matrix Revealed by Jon Rappoport. It describes how the Jesuits recruit agents, and I think it is really creepy. It describes Catholics who are involved in Catholic organizations. Some of them get more involved, and end up getting business or other deals from these organizations that give them a good standard of living that they would not want to lose. They end up with an "advisor", who is a Jesuit, but they probably don't know that. They end up having sexual affairs, and then needing to confess. They also are asked to provide lots of spy information. In the end, they cannot get out of this system. This was written a number of years ago, and mentions a number of US Senators, including Joe Biden.

The Jesuits are organized like an army. The Father General gives an order, and it is obeyed.

Jesuits believe that the end justifies the means. That means that they can and should do whatever horrible things that are necessary to achieve their all-important goal.

The way the Jesuits are organized makes them masters at being the third party that creates wars. If the Father General wants to create war between two countries, he can order his agents in each of those countries to do things or say things that will move each country toward war with the other country.

My belief is that other groups suspected of being Mr.

Global, actually work for the Jesuits.

For example Freemasonry was created in 1717. I believe it was created to give the Jesuits a non-Catholic cover organization they could use to operate in Great Britain. Later, they used Freemasonry in other countries.

Napoleon captured the Pope and held him prisoner. Since then, the Pope takes orders from the Father General of Jesuits, and not the other way around. So, anything the Catholic Church does can be considered to be under Jesuit control.

You have said that Bill Gates is not his own man, and I agree. In a similar way, I believe that the Rothschilds and Rockefellers are not their own men, and that they take orders from the Jesuits.

Freemasons on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean started the American Revolution. This included Benjamin Franklin and George Washington. It also included actions in Great Britain, such as the Stamp Act, which were designed to drive a wedge between Great Britain and her colonies. The newly created United States with its freedom of religion gave the Jesuits another country in which they could operate.

Jesuit influence on the US government is not new. The Mexican War is a good example. In 1833, Mexico seized all of the property of the Catholic Church. Three years later, in 1836, Texas declared its independence from Mexico, led by Masons such as Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston. In 1844, James Polk, a Mason, won the US Presidential election on a platform of western expansion. Soon, the US and Mexico were at war. By the end of that war, the US had taken a huge amount of Mexican territory. Soon after that, Catholics started lobbying to have the California missions returned to the Catholic Church. I believe that President Buchanan returned one of the missions, and then President Lincoln returned all of the remaining missions to the Catholic Church.

A Der Spiegel article on August 8, 1958 said "The Jesuits are also involved in the major US steel companies Republic Steel and National Steel, as well as in the four major US aircraft plants: Boeing, Lockheed, Douglas and Curtiss-Wright." The same article said "Today, Bank of America is 51 percent owned by the Order." Here is a link to a translation of that article:

https://www.reddit.com/r/Jesuitworldorder/comments/9m341u/der_spiegel_article_august_8_1958_on_vatican/

When it comes to the COVID pandemic, there are plenty of Jesuit connections. Dr Anthony Fauci graduated from the Jesuit College of the Holy Cross. California Governor, Gavin Newsom, the first governor to shut down a state due to COVID, graduated from the Jesuit University of Santa Clara. New York Governor (and former HUD secretary) Andrew Cuomo, first governor to shut down an Eastern state, graduated from the Jesuit Fordham University. House Speaker, Nancy Pelosi's husband graduated from the Jesuit Georgetown University. Federal Reserve Chairman, Jerome Powell, received his law degree from the Jesuit Georgetown University.

It is important to note that the Jesuit Order and the whole Catholic Church are in trouble because of the priest shortage. Kids do not want to grow up to be priests and nuns. The Jesuits cannot function without priests, so this is a major problem for them.

I like your story of Gideon. I think Mr. Global will lose, and it will look a lot like the victory of Gideon. But, Mr. Global will leave quite a mess behind.

I want to make this information more broadly known, and would appreciate your advice and help.

Catherine,

Thank you for your perspective.

I think you will find William Henry to be a kindred spirit.

His writings, videos, and articles offer a new facet to many of the issues you are presenting.

Here are a couple recent pieces:

Question: From RG (email)

Dear Catherine

In your last 'Ask Catherine' you talked about French scientists who had been put away in psychiatric clinics. Previously you had also reported on a German lawyer who had been put under psychiatric observation against her will for her ideas. In this regard I came across two very interesting documents from German universities which show that academia, at least in Germany, has been completely compromised.

The 1st Document:

https://www.uni-mannheim.de/media/Fakultaeten/sowi/Dokumente/Stellenangebote/111120_Onlinefachtagung_Verschwoerungstheorien.pdf is an invitation to a specialist conference “Conspiracies and Anti-Semitism” which was held on the 26th November 2020.

The invitation states that the central questions they are going to discuss, are “Why are conspiracy theories anti-democratic, anti-pluralistic, and anti-Semitic? What defines them and how do they argue? What makes people, especially during the crisis, so susceptible to conspiracy fairy tales? How can one smoothly oppose them in debates and training situations?”

This means zero tolerance for opinions outside the official narrative.

The 2nd document:

https://www.uni-heidelberg.de/md/izn/zi_predoc_ausschreibung.pdf

is a posting for a research job at the University of Heidelberg which will involve investigating the connection between neurological instability and the belief in conspiracy theories through mathematical modeling of experimentally obtained neurological scientific data.

The project is a collaboration between Dr. Georgia Koppe (Computational Psychiatry, Dept of Theoretical Neuroscience and Clinic for Psychiatry and Psychotherapy at the University of Mannheim) and Dr. Martin Gerchen (Biological Psychology, Dept of Clinical Psychology at the University of Mannheim).

According to the second document people who believe in conspiracy theories suffer from instability of their neurons. It is important to note that the “link” is already assumed to be a fact, at least this is what the wording of this project outline states. The proposed research project is interdisciplinary and uses mathematical modeling based on data obtained through experiments. I wonder how many conspiracy theorists are willing to participate. This is very alarming and inflammatory. Psychiatry was used in the 3rd Reich and in the USSR to suppress any criticism.

Both documents are highly derogatory and do not differentiate between different conspiracy theories. Worst of all they come in the guise of 'objective' science and are at least partially funded by the German state, i.e. the taxpayer. They intend to select 'suitable' candidates from leading positions in academia and economy, suggesting that the next attack on real democracy is already in the making.

Moreover, both of these documents strongly indicate that there are plans from the academic and scientific communities to instrumentalise psychiatry and psychotherapy on a large scale in order to fight people who criticise the official narrative, whatever that narrative might be. Dangerous times are ahead.

Question: From CM

Good Morning Ms. Fitts

I read from 2/3/21 WSJ – Puerto Rico is getting 6 BILLION dollars (from old ‘friends’ of yours the Dept of HUD) in federal funding to prepare for FUTURE hurricanes. I am thinking the federal government knows something WE don’t know. I could be wrong but would love to hear your valued wisdom on the money move by the Fed.

Question: From DE

Catherine, something you touched on so briefly somewhere, i have lost it now, but you spoke about when you were young that you were privy and were taught about secret societies and initiation / various types of non-public information of the upper elite class. I am not sure if you are even able to share that, but I wanted to at least ask. Perhaps you have shared it somewhere and i am just missing it.

Kind Regards

CAF Notes & Links:

No, I don't share unless a specific is useful for a particular example for educational purposes. See Deep State Tactics 101 – it comes up there several times I think. I have found that these discussions lapse into unproductive entertainment, often because they are so foreign to people who have not spent time with or in any of the many secret societies or intelligence operations. In addition, I have no intention to help the intelligence agencies fill out their files on me. I have said on many occasions that I encourage them to make any files they have on me public, so I can corroborate the parts that are true (they can be full of gossip and things that are not true). That would free up the conversation. However, they have not. One of the problems is that there is no statute of limitations on the assassination of a US citizen, and that includes my mother and, probably, my father. The story of my mother's death is described in Meditations of the Crossroads. They did something particularly nasty in 2004, so in response I published the story of my mother's death. Asymmetrical Tit for Tat.

Question: From KM

I have studied your work for five years. I started studying the global governance issue shortly after getting my eMBA in Canada, USA, Mexico and Brazil. I have had many spontaneous spiritual experiences which led me to a passion for understanding what is really happening on Planet Earth.

As a mother of two grown sons, I am very concerned with where the world is going. I would like to become very involved in the World Freedom Alliance. I started my career as a computer programmer after obtaining my Bachelor of Commerce (Honours in Computer Science) from the University of Saskatchewan (Canada). My expertise is in Operations Management and Project Management. I think I can add a lot of value to WFA as either an Operations Manager or as the Canadian liaison. I have reached out to the WFA many times but have not heard back from them.

Given the nature of the work, I suspect character references are in order. You may contact Anna Brees (ex BBC journalist with a large Youtube and Twitter following), Paul Hellyer (former Minister of Defence – Canada), Jeroen vanStratton (GlobalBEM), Jeane Manning (Canadian author of many books on breakthrough energy). Also, I have worked with Robert Dupper on an unsuccessful project that intended to form a global non-profit focused around Breakthrough Energy.

Would you be willing to contact Dolores Cahill or Maneka Helleberg directly and let them know of my desire to assist them with Operations. I have 28 years of experience in the rapidly changing telecom sector. At one point, I was the Operations Manager for a $990 M contract which included serviced development, operational delivery and extensive stakeholder / customer collaboration. In short, I feel I was born for this job. J

I am currently living at my beach house in remote Costa Rica with my spiritual partner. I need to be involved in creating a better world so that I can go to sleep at night knowing that I did my best to create freedom for others. I want to help pave the trail so that my future grand children can be born into a better world. Can you please help me by introducing me to Dolores or Maneka please?

In gratitude,

Actually, knowing clearly from now on that election process is fake is a major event that pushes people to the brink.

Before they can begin to identify who is ultimately hurting them, they have to start and keep saying no.

This means to stop feeding the beast : stop paying taxes. But this needs some amount of coordinating.

Question: From D (email)

I have a good friend/professional colleague, a Canadian, who is seriously considering immigrating to the US with her 19 year old son. My friend is a naturopathic doctor who is deeply concerned by what is happening in Canada and the US. Both my friend and her son also suffer from Lyme Disease and are going to receive treatment in Nashville, TN in the next month or so. My friend is struggling with whether to remain in the US (Tennessee or Texas) after treatment and try to live under the radar while pursuing a green card or to return to Canada and seek the green card outside the US. Many unknowns exist regarding how to move forward with this. I've advised her to consult with a good immigration attorney. Unfortunately, I don't know one. I'm hoping that you and/or the Solari community might have some ideas on how to approach my friend's challenge. Also, are there any small communities in Tennessee (or throughout the US) that have structured/are structuring themselves around the principles you've put forth for living freely and challenging the reset.

Many thanks,

Hi Catherine,

I just got done reading The State of Our Pensions. It was as good and as informative as The State of Our Currencies. That leads me to my question.

I have been living in Texas for a couple of years. I love it here more than where I came from in the Northeastern part of the United States, but I have been curious as to whether I would not experience more financial and political freedoms as a resident of Oklahoma instead. Help me out here Catherine, Oklahoma or stay in Texas?

Hello Catherine –

We are T&D, new subscribers to the Solari Report. We have listened to you in various other venues, and finally decided that your work would be very helpful for us! (I know! Duh!!!)

Anyway, there is so much information on your page, first, it's awesome! Second, however, we have a couple of very pressing questions that may need decisions before we can even make a dent in reading and watching all there is to see and learn.

We have read the Welcome, though are not all the way through FAQ's. We are also just starting to read, "State of Our Currency," and seen the interview of Sir James Goldsmith and Charlie Rose – Wow!

Our situation is this:

We have a decent amount of money available (for now!), but mostly in an IRA. We are torn between whether or not to take it out and invest it in something, like land with water and space (!), or ???

We are not expecting you to give us direct advice, but we would like to know what article(s) on your site would be most useful for us to read based on our quandary?

Thanks in advance,

Question: From DE [not a question]

In my humble opinion, States have to stand up to nullify unconstitutional executive orders and other federal government over-reach. that is their duty. It is used all the time by the blue team... look at sanctuary cities..... clearly lawless and they get away with it. It is time for the states to fight back and, if need be, to secede. Yes, it won't be pretty, yes, it creates a civil war environment... but the other solutions are not going to be peaceful, so the 100 million people have to assert authority wherein and whereas they find it.

IN AT THE LAST MINUTE

I am in UK and had a look at the Bank of England website on the subject of QE. This is what they say:

'How does quantitative easing work?

Large-scale purchases of government bonds lower the interest rates or 'yields' on those bonds. This pushes down on the interest rates offered on loans (eg mortgages or business loans) because rates on government bonds tend to affect other interest rates in the economy.

So QE works by making it cheaper for households and businesses to borrow money – encouraging spending.

In addition, QE can stimulate the economy by boosting a wide range of financial asset prices.

Suppose we buy £1 million of government bonds from a pension fund. In place of the bonds, the pension fund now has £1 million in money. Rather than hold on to this money, it might invest it in financial assets, such as shares, that give it a higher return. And when demand for financial assets is high, with more people wanting to buy them, the value of these assets increases. This makes businesses and households holding shares wealthier – making them more likely to spend more, boosting economic activity.

Following the additional programme of QE announced in November 2020, our purchases of UK government bonds will total £875 billion. In addition, £20 billion of sterling non-financial investment-grade corporate bonds have been purchased. That means the stock of assets held in the Asset Purchase Facility will total £895 billion.'

My schooldays economics class is a distant memory (and probably all wrong anyway) but these days BoE seems to use a broad money supply measure called M4 and it's gone up. Am I being dim here, but they seem happy to say QE is intended to drive up the financial markets. Why would BoE say the opposite of what the Fed claims?

I really had hoped my days of having to follow all the financial stuff was behind me, but clearly not so! Like Dr Farrell, my feet are firmly planted in the culture and always will be.

I wrote you back in the spring when Lake Constance had to cancel. We've had an interesting time down here in XXXXXl. We've have had scarcely any cases of the Covid. The first UK lockdown ended in early July and as we are essentially a holiday town, we were inundated with visitors all the way through to the end of October. Still no Covid. The local businesses were run off their feet so have done okay. The UK then embarked on some sort of tier system with different regions having different restrictions linked to whatever their 'test results' were showing. We were just about the only place in the lowest tier so carried on much as normal (there was no tier for 'no problem'). Then we've had another total lockdown, but winter is our quiet time of year so the impact isn't very much for our local businesses (nearly all small independents). We've lost a few, but I would say not much more than the usual turnover, and they have pretty promptly been replaced by new ones, so confidence seems rather good. But we have a lot of people here with insecure, minimum wage jobs and some of them are really struggling. The food bank use is up a lot.

We've also had a run-up in property prices, mainly the upscale properties typically bought as second homes and/ or holiday lets - this has been partly fuelled by a temporary reduction in the property tax (stamp duty) payable on purchases which the UK Gvmt announced last spring as Covid swung into action and is due to expire 31 March 2021. This would save £15k on a second home type property and the price increases have run ahead of that (I would say 3 or 4 times that) so there is definitely increased demand for these properties - Covid refugees, I suppose. Some of these properties have bounced on and off the market a couple of times, probably due to impulse/ panic offers and/ or weak valuations. I followed it all quite closely as I'm in the market for something myself, but for me it's much more important to get the right thing than a cheap price as I want a long-term hold with some specific features. It's a very tricky local market, very skewed by the holiday home factor. I don't observe so much of a price hike in the lower end of the market, which is local people buying homes to actually live in.

We are also being favoured (two miles up the road) with a visit from the G7 in June which left me speechless (this is unusual). I will try to observe what I can around this event. It's a bizarre choice of venue, since we don't have big hotels here and the chosen ones are very close in to residential areas with tiny roads - there is a helipad at the bigger hotel and the one where the meetings are meant to occur is on the beach so I guess they will helicopter back and forwards - very eco friendly. They can close off our entire peninsula from the main trunk road, so presumably Antifa, BLM, EDL and other assorted protesters will be corralled down there. I have a theory that maybe we are just a decoy and the meeting will occur elsewhere or be bounced into cyberspace.

You will be happy to hear that I was lucky enough to be allocated an allotment last October (if you are not familiar, this is a very English institution dating back to Victorian times whereby the local council gets hold of some land and rents small plots at very cheap rents to householders - it was meant for the working classes to grow their own vegetables, often in cities). My half plot is 30 x 15 feet and is currently being fitted out with a rabbit-proof fence and a small shed. The rent is £45 per annum. I live right in the middle of the old town here, so I don't have a garden (I do some volunteer gardening for a local arts charity). I've always gardened but never grown produce, so the allotment is my new project for 2021. Allotments are incredibly popular and all forms of growing seem to be even more so since Covid - the garden shed company said they are crazy-busy with orders!

I have done a lot of Get Clean actions in the last 18 months or so since joining Solari. However I cracked recently and bought a couple of Asia trackers through Vanguard. I am conflicted over this, as I now have to admit that trackers and Vanguard are part of the problem. I don't have the time or expertise to invest in the markets any other way, I've always done so just by following broad geopolitical trends. I had cleaned it all out, but since cash interest is now dead I find a modest equity kicker hard to resist. It's also partly to push cash into a tax-free envelope, we can do £20k pa in the UK at the moment and at present we are allowed to switch it between cash and market investments but it's use-it-or-lose it for each tax year. I'm finding this a very difficult one.

I have no idea what is going on with the Covid in the UK as I completely stopped all MSM at the turn of the year. I am fortunate that the lockdowns only have a modest impact on my life. I have to admit to being completely baffled by the UK's stance in all this. In some ways it feels to me like a phony kind of war? Certainly there is no sense of enforcement pressure down here, but we're a very small place and a long way from anywhere. I go out and about whenever I want. I do invite people in, but they don't want to come in if it's 'prohibited'. Lots of people here just meet their friends down on the sea-front - I did the other day and a bunch of us were hanging out and chatting with takeaway coffee, a police van swung by (a rare sight) and they just beamed at us and we all beamed back. A military helicopter flew over low the other day when I was coming back from the allotment, very unusual. Maybe doing a recce for G7.

Most people I know seem to be rushing off to get the injection - and it's the Pfizer - which worries me a lot. I'm not a priority group, and I'm not expecting pressure over it, but thanks to Solari, RFK and all the other heroes I feel well prepared to deflect it if necessary. I did try to talk to people about it last year, but people just don't seem willing to question it, so now I feel I just have to leave them to make their own decision. Most of my friends are pretty educated people and I just find it extraordinary that they don't want to find out more. I think a lot of them have had a pretty comfortable life, with more upscale family backgrounds than me, often with some inherited money, and I think it's harder for them to question the status quo. And of course, the television!

Apologies if this is a bit of a rag-bag update! Once again, thank you for everything you do - life would be very difficult right now without Solari and all your wonderful associates. I've just been listening to your talk with Thomas Meyer on Ahriman - incredibly on point. I am slowly getting into Steiner now, between you and DJ. I seem to remember DJ remarking in one of his X-series shows that Steiner once said that Russia would be the saviour of the West. I'm going to listen to Putin's WEF speech next!
