A. CASH AND PRECIOUS METALS

1. Question:

Hi Catherine, attached is an extract from my bank's terms. I recently had cause to review them and the final word is 'intriguing'! What is your take? There is a similar clause elsewhere in the terms, and the expression they use is 'other authority'. I have asked for clarification, obviously! I sent them the video of the central bankers discussing 'bail-ins' a while ago, to ask my bank's position on this (they were unaware of the term), and got nowhere as you would expect. I imagine they have me down as a trouble maker!

I trust all is well.

Best wishes, “F”

Sharing information and making payments to tax authorities and/or government agencies under applicable law

We may be required to share information about your account with tax authorities (such as HMRC) or other government agencies or authorities.

To the extent we're required to do so under any applicable law or regulation, we may also set aside money from any account you hold with us and use this money to pay any amount owed by you to (or claimed from you by) any relevant tax authority, government agency or authority.

2. Question:

I've noticed that at two banks in my small town they require that you do 12 debit card purchases if you want to receive interest above 0.05%. I find this a little offensive and since I would like to use cash and not be tracked I am thinking of not using the debit card.

Which is the better way to go and is the 12 purchase system OK or best avoided.

Thank you!

3. Question:

Dear Catherine,

We are seriously considering opening an offshore bank account in order to have at least a portion of our money outside of the fed banking system. We are even willing to travel there to open it if need be. For starters, are there any in the Bahamas you would recommend? If not, any you could recommend would be greatly appreciated.

Thank you so much for your help and advice,

4. Question:

Hi Catherine,

You mentioned on a webcast that there was an article on the site with recommendations as to how to safely store gold at home. I can't find it; please advise.

B. GEOPOLITICS & FINANCIAL MARKETS

5. Question:

Catherine:

How can I remove my investments from Vanguard and what suggestions do you have to invest somewhere else given the tax implications?

Previously, you indicated Vanguard maybe changing their approach to ESG, but I continue to hear that is not the case, therefore I feel I need to act.

Catherine, your site is tremendous! GOD led me to you; and my Weston Price membership has provided me with great information!!

Sincerely, “LP”

6. Question:

What is your recommendation for reinvesting proceeds from the sale of an investment in this environment? This is a fairly large redeployment of capital and I hesitate in redeploying in longer term investments given the volatility of the markets for now? Would you advocate a strategy of holding short term treasuries or equivalent liquid investments and redeploying over a set time frame? Thanks for what you do

CAF Notes & Links:

C. EQUITY OVERVIEW

7. Question:

Hi Catherine-

My wife and I currently live in a condo with a very low interest rate, but we're looking to invest in a resilient lifestyle property. We have some cash liquid but with the future outlook we're considering cashing out our 401k to pay cash for that new resilient property, thinking it may be better long-term investment. Is that prudent?

thanks!

CAF Notes & Links:

8. Question:

Hi Catherine,

What are your thoughts on converting electronic stock shares in a brokerage account like Schwab or E*TRADE to stock certificates that I would hold to ensure I have direct access to my shares and proof of my shares should the Financial system collapse given the current environment? Is this a good way to manage this potential market risk even though I would have the risk of ensuring the safety of the stock certificates? Is there another option to consider?

D. FEEDBACK

9. Question:

Hello Catherine,

I've been a subscriber for many years and have learned to value your work and your unique ability to connect the dots. Many people think they can connect things and form strategies, forecasts, outlooks, etc., but few are accurate. You have a cold hard (no BS) logic that lays it on the line...you form a solid premise supported with a lifetime of knowledge and experience, then extrapolate various potential scenarios regarding the financial economy, politics, society and others.

My question is, if you were to speculate on a likely (emphasis on likely, not worst or best case) future scenario for humanity, how would you sum it up? For instance, with what I currently know, understand and believe my future scenario would go some thing like this:

1) Global war within next 12 months, most likely before end of year. The war includes a limited nuclear exchange that is designed to drive forward TPTB's agenda, and most importantly hide the financial economy collapse. I do not believe we will see an ELE type of nuclear exchange...

2) The federal government collapses and the US breaks apart or separates into SOC's or nations

3) A new "pandemic" is released into the world that is used as an additional tool to depopulate and segregate the population

4) A new "currency" or CBDC is put into place to replace the US $ and bring the population under total control

5) Outside of the US, countries and unions are dissolved, broken apart and new SOC's, nations and alignments are put into place

6) By the early 2030's, due to the pole shift and other sun/solar system cycles, the earth is dramatically transformed where old land goes away and new land is formed. The human race is reduced to less that 20% of current population.

*My feeling is that TPTB will NOT be successful, but just the same will cause a level of human disruption never seen before.

Appreciate your input...consider it a WAG, but let's see what sticks to the wall..

11. Question:

Catherine, have you ever been invited to address the Tennessee Bankers Association?

I've been trying (through my local bankers) to find out what lobbying stance they've been taking on the several banking and currency related bill in Tennessee legislature. I'm suspicious, having witnessed the march through institutions and industries often beginning with infiltrating their representative or certifying organizations.

I keep talking with different bank folks here, but no one yet has followed through to ask, or been curious enough to pull the strings I've laid before them. But I politely pester.

I discovered you and solari when I moved to Maury County, TN last summer, and began researching the bank (Toronto-Dominion) with which my long-time bank was merging.

Using knowledge gained from solari and your many available interviews, I moved my money into small, well-run local banks. I am loving the small town banking experience, and having moved to cash-only is rewarded by weekly visits to my banks, where I now socialize with over a dozen people! You don't realize what you were missing in the big city, until you walk into an "economical" Mexican restaurant, see a familiar face, and your banker pops up from the booth to hail you by name so he can introduce you to his family!

Thank you, Catherine. You've blessed my life.

12. Question:

I highly recommend the documentary "A Smooth Stone". The "smooth stone" in the title refers to the stone that David used to slay Goliath. This film is about the struggle to restore Religious Exemptions for vaccines in Mississippi (banned since 1979), ultimately leading to a court case in which Religious Exemptions are restored (which goes into effect July 2023). This inspirational film shows what can be accomplished when a group of committed people come together to restore freedom and to triumph over oppression.

This video slightly before the one hour mark has a woman that was Vax damaged and went to NIH program/study in which she was given immunoglobulins which helped her.

At Sally Fallon's farm lecture recently whole raw milk has a ton of immunoglobulins. Also under Raw milk cure search, people can find raw milk was used as a cure for many things.

If I was vaxxed, I would start drinking whole raw milk.

14. Question:

Good morning / afternoon!

I am curious if you or the Solari Team have good recommendations on how to find a safe dentist. From a bit of a journey, I believe a lot of my remaining health issues tie to heavy metals and teeth with potential for infection. I fired my last dentist a few years ago due to being sick after 3 visits in a row, with 2 visits including what I believe was a tag team effort with his hygienist to recommend procedures and them pushing fluoride on my kids despite both parents protesting... then during the hysteria, it was complicated to seek any medical care, as everybody knows.

Now – do you have recommendations or resources on how to find a safe dentist?

My primary concern is the risk of shedding while they do their work. I have some general concerns about some of the local anesthetics they may use and what could be in them. How much of a risk does your team think the shedding is? Are there good questions to ask, beyond the injection question? Are there reasonable safety measures I can take?

I have found the <https://holisticdental.org/> website from a journey down the path from Jen's interview with Jan of "Fight Autism and Win". This looks useful for generally safe dentists in terms of amalgams, fluoride, etc... and I found a few that look promising. From the pictures on a few websites, there is a decent chance most I came across have taken the injection, so any additional advice you have would be appreciated.

Regarding Chelation – thank you to Jen and the solari team for the fantastic interview. I tested positive for a number of heavy metals and have been taking IV- and oral-chelation to reduce. The interview noted the importance of supporting the liver but more from a supplementation case than anything else. In my case, my doctors recommended a number of actual liver flushes prior to chelation to avoid the risk of moving metals around and not having healthy lymph systems. The initial flushes were 'interesting' to say the least, but due to a plastic or resin smell suggests something synthetic was causing me issues. I have a couple of Andy Cutler's books on order to see if I can make additional improvements.

One thought for the health series would be review of how to 'cleanse' the system beyond the standard try this diet or that. Diet is important – no questions. However, I spent a lot of time bouncing between things all while having a rigid diet. At the end of the day, diet could only reduce the incoming toxins, it was my exit paths, lymph, liver, etc..., that were not going to resolve themselves with diet alone and I think in the pharma-food/air/water/everything environment with nano-particles galore to clog every small body vessel, the liver, or kidneys, etc... are all at risk for clogging and near impossible to detect. I think Pete Kennedy of the Food Series mentioned this one time as a risk. The hope if this has utility is to give people useful ideas to navigate the environment we are in with inexpensive, easy, safe solutions that from my experience are not really well known or discussed.

God Bless!

-Matt

PS: I have some on the ground input that is not really a question. The subscriber input takes me to a page that advises logging in, though I have. Is it under maintenance or did I miss the obvious?

44. Question:

CAF Notes & Links:

I. OTHER

45. Question:

Do you (or John Titus) know how to find out the current owners of the Federal Reserve Bank of NY and what percentages that they own?

On page 157 from Eustace Mullins book "The Secrets of the Federal Reserve", it shows the ten largest holders of the NY Fed common stock forty years ago on July 26, 1983. If one assumes that no Fed NY common shares were sold during the past forty years:

Chemical Bank acquired Manufacturers Hanover

Chase Manhattan acquired Chemical Bank

Morgan Guaranty Trust merged with Chase Manhattan Bank.

Could one assume that today, JP Morgan Chase now owns 38% of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York? ? ?

If yes, then could it explain why JP Morgan Chase keeps getting special deals from the NY Federal Reserve Bank ? ? ?

ADDENDUM

As of 11:05 Tuesday, July 26, 1983, the list of member banks holding Federal Reserve Bank of New York stock includes twenty-seven New York City banks. Listed below are the number of shares held by ten of these banks, amounting to 66% of the total outstanding number of shares, namely 7,005,700:

	Shares	Percent
Bankers Trust Company	438,831	( 6%)
Bank of New York	141,482	( 2%)
Chase Manhattan Bank	1,011,862	(14%)
Chemical Bank	544,962	( 8%)
Citibank	1,090,813	(15%)
European American Bank & Trust	127,800	( 2%)
J. Henry Schroder Bank & Trust	37,493	(.5%)
Manufacturers Hanover	509,852	( 7%)
Morgan Guaranty Trust	655,443	( 9%)
National Bank of North America	105,600	( 2%)

The tremendous number of shares held today as against the original purchases in 1914 is brought about by Section 5 of the original Federal Reserve Act which called for a member bank to buy and hold stock in the district Federal Reserve Bank equal to 6% of its capital and surplus.

Currently, shares held by five of the above named banks comprise 53% of the total Federal Reserve Bank of New York stock. An examination of the major stockholders of the New York City banks shows clearly that a few families, related by blood marriage, or business interests, still control the New York City banks which, in turn, hold the controlling stock of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

It is notable that three of the banks holding Federal Reserve Bank of New York stock, in the amount of 270,893 shares, are subsidiaries of foreign banks. J. Henry Schroder Bank and Trust is listed by Standard and Poors as a subsidiary of Schroders Ltd. of London. The National Bank of North America is a subsidiary of the National Westminster Bank, one of London's "Big Five". European American Bank is a subsidiary of the European American Bank, Bahamas, LTD. It is interesting to note that the directors of the European American Bank & Trust include Milton F. Rosenthal, president and Chief Operating Officer of the international gold company,

46. Question:

Catherine and Caroline:

Forgive me if you already saw this email, but everything I send is going to spam suddenly. It should be fixed by tomorrow. Funny, it tends to happen if I publish something on Solari, but I think it's just a coincidence. Either way, here is what I sent:

There are some YouTube videos (I get the irony) on how to report the fake to YouTube. I have reached out to find someone more specialized than me in this matter and will pass on any information that I get. I have not litigated these matters but I have been involved (as local counsel) in internet defamation litigation. Here is the expensive option:

File a lawsuit in the Court where your business is located. I am not familiar with Tennessee Court system. The lawsuit is against Jane and John Doe and the Complaint describes who Jane and John do are: Something like "People or Entities posting the information on the website under your name, etc..."

Then, get the Court to issue a subpoena on Google/YouTube for the IP address and all identifying information related to the posting of the video and the account associated with the video. Once you have that information, amend your Complaint and likely get drug into Federal Court. Then try to serve the parties (this may get really interesting if they are foreign entities). I can send a template of a case I was involved with a few years ago.

There are ways to Court orders to tell YouTube/Google to stop these videos. I remember Gerald Celente went through something similar a few years ago and ended up suing YouTube to compel them to take it down. But honestly the is all more in line with intellectual property litigation outside of my bailiwick.

I have a feeling you are going to be playing whack-a-mole with this issue.

Best Wishes, "MH"

I used to watch Telegram a lot. I never used it for messages. I liked the info I learned but am a little worried at this time if it is OK to watch. Sometimes I feel it influences my general life physiologically that may not be good.

Thank you.

48. Question:

How do you/I travel around the world if they require a face scan and that is part of the 'stuff' not to do? I was telling my daughter not to 'do' face scans, but she said she had to when traveling to Europe (France) and again to travel this summer (Ireland). I hope to travel to Norway next summer but am skeptical now about this face scan business. Thanks for your input.

49. Question:

Interesting video. Thanks for posting, “A”!

Pageau cites Enoch and references Moloch in discussing AI. Looking at AI and trans-humanism from a Biblical worldview (old seminary grad here), one has to be struck by the mirror-similarities between these and two key events in Genesis: the corruption of human DNA by spiritual beings (“sons of elohim”) in Gen.6, and the building of the Tower of Babel in Gen.11, of which the Lord declared “...this is only the beginning of what they will do. And nothing that they propose to do will now be impossible for them,” and so he forced upon them different languages and dispersed them around the earth.

Are we coming full circle? Have the same elohim (the hosts of heaven who became corrupt and began working against Yahweh, cf. Psalm 82) conspired with man to wield trans-humanism and AI in their war against God? Sounds like a SciFi pitch!

Certainly, the idea of a worldwide uniting of humanity under evil rule against God and His followers is not hard to read into the text of Revelation.

And these references to “Moloch” have certainly increased around the internet.

Can't say I haven't frequently wondered, given that Moloch required the sacrifice of babies for his worship, if the millions of aborted in the US has some connection, some effect, some strengthening of Moloch's influence. (I'm presuming that there could be an actual, corresponding elohim being behind the pagan worship of Moloch.)

We do live in interesting times... so interesting that serious scholarship and tinfoil hat buffoonery now share a Venn diagram.

Wondering about your take in Massie.

Doesn't seem like a representative of the people at $4 Trillion.

“Update (1700ET): As many expected, Rep. Thomas Massie – who sits on the Rules Committee, signaled late Tuesday afternoon that he ‘anticipates’ voting to move the debt deal forward.”

Financial Rebellion recent talk with Caroline

Hello Catherine, Thank you for everything that your are doing and have done for humanity. Tina Turner did rent a property in Kusnacht on Lake Zurich with her husband during the time that she was not a Swiss citizen as residential property can not be owned by foreigners in Switzerland. After becoming a Swiss citizen she did purchase with her husband a 76 million Swiss Franc property further out of Zurich also on Lake Zurich so you were correct.

Again, thank you for all of the wonderful work in so many paradigms that you are doing. with kind regards, “MA S”
